

Stiff Competition 2007

Call For Entries

Got your panties in a wad over legislators obsessed with chastity belts?
Had enough of powerful tighty-whities attacking reproductive rights?
About ready to forget it all and go commando?

Don't just wear your politics on your sleeve; keep them close to your passion...

Participate in "Panty-Palooza: Declare the Unmentionable"

This year, we'd like you to help cultivate the art of political underwear. We're inviting all artists, knitters, sewers, sculptors and other crafters to create some seriously crafty crotches. Of course, the world isn't made of boxers, briefs, and cone bras alone – all creative expressions of intimate politics and political crafting welcome!

To find out more, or indicate your intent to submit an entry, please send an email to efricke@ppwpaf.org with your name, email, company (if relevant), address, phone, fax and email. Or visit www.stiffcompetition.org

Who Can Play:

All companies, individual designers, crafters and visionaries with their knickers in a twist and a good idea.

How to Play:

Submit your crafty item, political piece, sculpture or other type of artwork to 933 Liberty Avenue, Pittsburgh, PA 15222 by May 24th, 2007.

Entries may be displayed at Panty Palooza: Declare the Unmentionable at the New Hazlett Theatre on June 14th. The winner (as determined by our jurors) will be announced the evening of the event.

And because Planned Parenthood Western Pennsylvania Action Fund thinks your underwear would look good on our floor.... (and on our website, at outreach events, and for other marketing opportunities)... all entries become property of Planned Parenthood Western Pennsylvania Action Fund and will be sold to raise funds for PPWPAF. Designs may be reproduced on skivvies across the state!

Planned Parenthood Western Pennsylvania Action Fund invites your participation in our annual fundraiser to raise awareness of, interest in, and money for PPWPAF's efforts to support and ensure safe and accessible reproductive health care and education.
